Chai wallha boy, it's barely noon	a slow summer day	flowers in full bloom
Mother, why does that boy stand next to you	with a face like his	I could fall i love

Mehendi is written so fine
The Sun, the moon, butterflies
Eternal Love will soon arrive a baby's smile will change our lives

Say these are the things to come

What's this happy game we play	on our wedding day	my best man lifts me up
My woman standing next to me	with a face like hers	you can see why I fell in love

I will never be lonely again
She is more than just that little girl
We will build a wonderful life together

As we wander around the world

Play the garland game, I will	on our wedding day	my family lifts me up
Barefoot man standing next to me	with a face like his	you can see why I fell in love

I will never be lonely again
He is more than just that little boy
I will brew him a cup of chai tea
F G A
And keep a home that's safe and warm

Our love so strong	on our wedding	The Henna will never wear out
We will have a life so great	The lines of Mehendi	are never ever wrong
